

Joining the Oread Mountaineering Club

Please complete the form below, and hand in as suggested.

Prospective membership has no special conditions for joining, we just need your details and some money! It is intended to let you get to know the club and its members, and for them to get to know you, prior to progressing to full membership.

Prospective membership gives you:

- The newsletter (sent electronically)
- Limited rights to use the club huts
- BMC third party insurance

There's no problem coming to a few daytime/ evening meets without joining as a prospective member, but you really should join if you want to come on any longer/ more serious meets, particularly involving an overnight stay.

You can choose to apply for full membership straight away, without passing through prospective membership.

Full membership requires your support from a proposer and seconder, and some demonstration of climbing experience/ commitment. Your application must be initially approved by the committee, and then is opened to the membership to voice any objection via a notice in the newsletter. This process may sound rather cumbersome, but is in practice a formality intended to protect the club from undesirables. Objections are very rarely raised.

Full membership gives you:

- The newsletter (preferably sent electronically)
- Full rights to use the club huts
- Reciprocal rights to use other BMC affiliated club huts
- BMC third party insurance
- Voting rights at the club AGM

Reduced subscriptions are available to full members who:

- Share an address with another full member (Family Membership)
- Have reached state pension age (Senior Membership)
- Are resident abroad

Note: Full Membership is available only from age 18.

The above is a summary of the full club rules.
